Mobile Applications

ANDROID | iOS | USSD

We adhere to the highest design principles to ensure that your mobile application is as successful as it is a solid, well crafted piece of art.

We don't just build apps, we build businesses. The result is a thought-through product that can hit the market harder than your competitors.

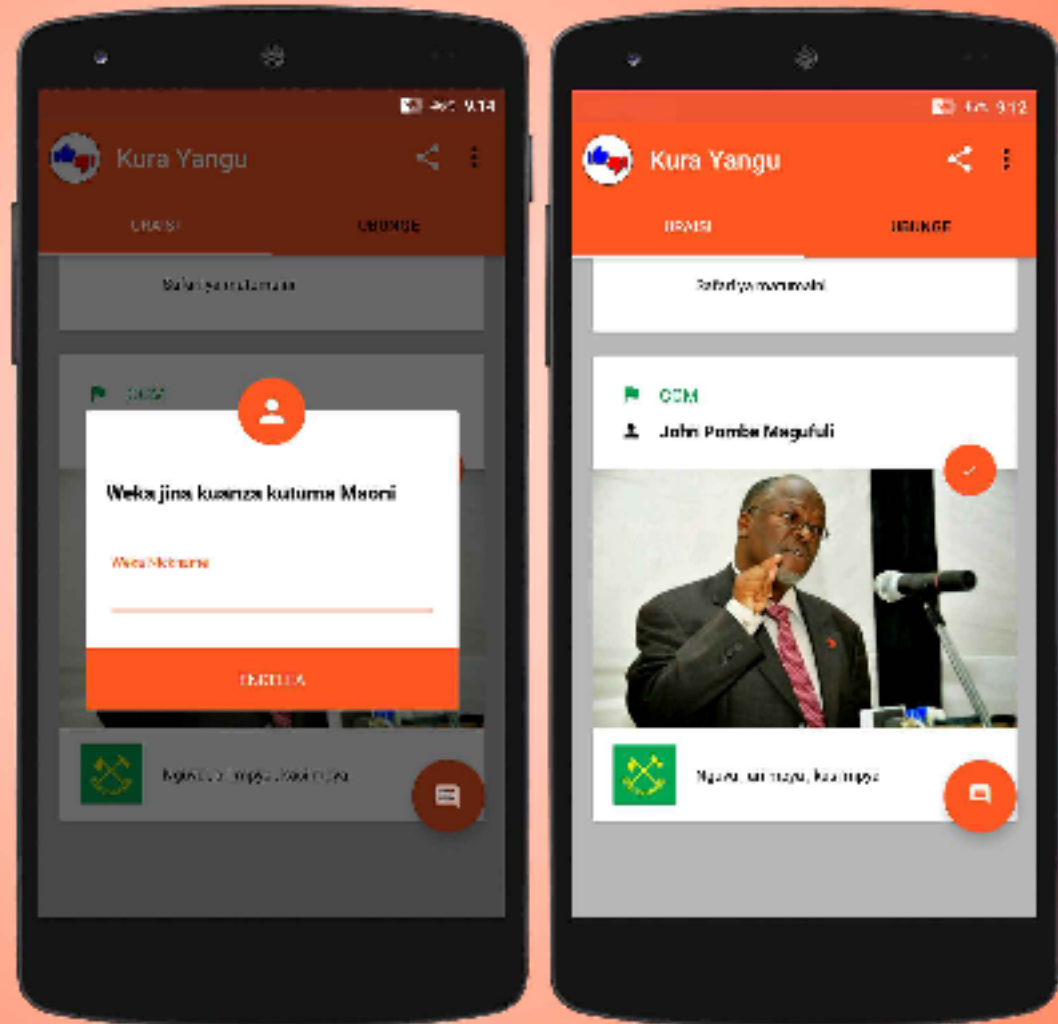

Biashara Plus App

BiasharaPlus app enables you to get price listings of all current Forever products, there is no need to carry along leaflets for price listings. Get it all, straight from your smartphone.

Kura Yangu App

African Fashion

We created African Fashion to connect Africa and Fashion.

Sahara Sparks App

The official Sahara Sparks app was built to help you navigate the conference, whether you're attending in-person or remotely.

Digital Marketing

STRATEGY | S.E.O | EMAIL MARKETING V| SOCIAL MEDIA | CAMPAIGNS

Reaching customers is crucial for business growth, and companies large and small are constantly looking for ways to reach new customers while keeping current customers continuously interested. At IPF we focus on making sure customers interested in what you offer find you and stay with you.

OUR APPROACH

At the agency we have adapted the human centered design approach and it is a thing we live through all stages in any project we do, the process is broken into three simple steps.

Understanding the problem is key. Our hands joined with our customers, we open doors to simple and usable digital solutions.

Then, we visualize. All insights are churned to ensure that partially digested problems are broken down into fine-grain absorbable units. We use these units to sketch a walking skeleton of the proposed digital solution.

On the last stage, we quickly ship a working product, a platform for our client's feedback but also a platform to help us deliver. With each shipment we iterate, each one dressed to suit adjustments by the user and the market.
